God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

NIGERIA'S NATIONAL ANTHEM

Shall never be in vain.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF IDANRE

IDANRE THE CITY ON THE ROCKS

Idanre the city on the rocks, lies 20 kilometres from Akure, the capital of Ondo State. Idanre, a historic Yoruba town, is famous for its rich cultural tradition with a population of over 1 million people with a common boundary with Benin city it covers an area of over 600 square miles including 200 square miles of forest hills, Idanre is surrounded by a chain of rocks which forms a natural protection around the city.

It is an accepted fact that Idanre like other Yorubas migrated from the East under the able leadership of ODUDUWA who was the founder of Yoruba Kingdom.

Idanre is the largest cocoa producer in Nigeria more than $10 Million USD in revenue every year. Unfortunately, there is little to show for this in terms of investment and infrastructures. (Idanre Cultural Association intends on changing that)

Cocoa beans from Idanreland rank among the best in the world.

" Wood and forest potentials: Idanre has the largest forest reserves producing the largest tonnage of timbers in Ondo State.

Idanre hill citadel presents prolific tourism potentials. Serving as attractive tourist centres are:

" Topographic features of the towering chains of volcanic rocks

" The wonderful AGBOGUN footprint on Aghagha rock which will fit anybody's feet

" Ala Forest Reserves is a potential natural zoo

The New Idanre at the foot of the hills was planted less than sixty years ago and is divided into six zones, Atoshin, Alade, Ala Odode and Oniserere. The ancient palace is preserved at Oke-Idanre together with a few other state houses for the preservation of the ancient crown, works of arts, and other things of fame in Idanre. IDANRE is a potential tourist centre in southern Nigeria.

A pilgrims' rest beneath Idanre Hill
The wine-girl, dazed from divine dallying
Felt wine-skeins race in fire-patterns within her
Her eyes queried, what then are you? At such hour
Why seek what on the hills?

Wole Soyinka - in Idanre and other poems.

Presidential Welcome Address

Good evening,

the chairman, lady chair, traditional chiefs, award recipients, distinguished ladies and gentlemen. My heart overflows with profound gratitude to the almighty God that we all have the opportunity of witnessing the 2nd Fundraising of the Idanre Cultural Association of Canada.

I would also like to, on behalf of all the members of Idanre Cultural Association of Toronto, express my profound gratitude to the Chairman Chief Olu Akindolire and the Chairlady Mrs. Bose Odueke and members of the high table. I also extend my appreciation to all our friends for your continuous support over the past years.

Tonight, it is to me a great pleasure and a privilege to stand before you this evening to announce to you what we have achieved during the past year.

- * Donated drugs to Idanre General Hospital
- * Donated bed sheets, pillow cases, towels and uniforms for patients to Idanre General Hospital
- * Participated in the yearly food bank drives in Toronto
- * Currently in the process of replacing Idanre General Hospital's Ambulance

Idanre Cultural Association's members are very grateful to Dr. Ola Kassim for his financial support over the years. I pray that you and your family shall continue to grow from strength to strength in Jesus name.

To all my fellow members, I say thank you all for your commitments, time, dedication and generosity over the years. Thanks for the magnificent role you are playing towards the development of our growing Idanre community. Tonight I am appealing to you all to please donate generously to the 2nd Fundraising for the development project in Idanre, Ondo State.

May God help us to be springs of living water to those who look at us for sympathy and courage.

Thank you all for coming and as you have come to honour our invitation may the almighty God continue to honour you. May your shadow never grow less.

May God help us all.

Thank you.
